

I think all customers should be able use any means necessary to access the services of other VRS providers. I fully support interoperability!